Claims 1-32 are presented for examination.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 98/34644.

WO patent teaches the use of photo sensitizing agents for the reduction or prevention of inflammation. See the abstract. The above reference also teaches the use of the porphyrin derivatives as photosensitizing agents. See pages 20-28. The above reference differs from the claimed invention in the use of the claimed compounds for prevention or reduction of inflammation associated with photodynamic therapy. It would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art to employ a compound known for the treatment of inflammation and use of for the treatment of inflammation caused by photodymaic therapy.

One skilled in the art would have been motivated to employ the teachings of the above reference, since it relates to the use of the claimed compounds for the treatment of inflammation. To use a well known anti inflammatory agent for the treatment of any type of inflammation would have been obvious to a person skilled in the art in the absence of evidence to the contrary. Applicant has presented no evidence to establish the unexpected no evidence to establish the unexpected or unobvious nature of the claimed invention, and as such claims 1-32 are properly rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103.
